Summary of the Event

The Institute's Innovation Council (IIC) hosted a competitive event on the basis of innovations towards helping the rural scene. The event was named Rural Tech Spark and was hosted in two rounds.

Round 1: The First Round was the screening round where the participants had to submit their ideas in a presentation format by Monday, 21st August 2023. These presentations were then evaluated on the basis of Innovation and Creativity, impact and Sustainability, Feasibility and Practicality, Scalability, and Relevance to Rural Challenges. There were 45 participants in the first round.

Round 2: The Second Round was the final round of the event which was held on Friday, 25th August 2023. This round had the participants selected from the screening round pitch their ideas using a presentation in front of a jury of the Institute's Faculty members. After each presentation, the jury and the presenters indulged in a vicious round of cross-questioning in order to better understand the views of the presenters on the basis of the judging criteria as well as point out the problems and fallacies of each of their models.

The event proved to be a great success by receiving a hefty number of submissions in the screening round. After careful consideration, the jury elected 10 finalists who then hustled for the prize. But in the end, The Shovel proved himself to be the most capable across all criteria in turn making him shoot for the stars and win this event.
